

BIG-LEAF ASTER

(Eurybia macrophylla)

NORTHWEST MICHIGAN INVASIVE SPECIES NETWORK

Protecting, enhancing, and promoting Northwest Michigan's natural communities through terrestrial invasive plant management and outreach.

Joshua Mayer

Is big-leaf aster right for your garden?

1-3 ft tall
2-3 ft wide

Jul.-Oct.

To learn more about how you can help protect our wild places, visit HabitatMatters.org

Key Features:

Zen Sutherland

Late-Season Bloom

This simple flower is one of the last of the growing season, providing an important resource to pollinators

Fungus Guy

Foliage

The large, low leaves of this plant are a great ground cover in summer, adding texture to the garden.

Kenneth Dwain Harrelson

Visitors to Explore

Hosts the caterpillars of butterflies like this pearl crescent. Attracts many pollinators late in the year.