

COMMON JOE-PYE WEED

(Eutrochium maculatum)

NORTHWEST MICHIGAN INVASIVE SPECIES NETWORK

Protecting, enhancing, and promoting Northwest Michigan's natural communities through terrestrial invasive plant management and outreach.

Iowa State University

Is Joe-pye weed right for your garden?

3-5 ft tall

1-3 ft wide

June-Aug

To learn more about how you can help protect our wild places, visit HabitatMatters.org

Key Features:

John Haarstad

Flowers

Rose-colored flowers bloom mid- to late-summer with a sweet, pleasant fragrance.

Daniel Keeley

Great for Gardens

Adds structure to perennial garden. Offers beautiful contrast when planted with other late summer blooms.

Patricia Sutton

Visitors to Explore

Nectar and pollen attracts many pollinators, including bees and butterflies. A great alternative to invasive butterfly bush!